Author. THE REV. RICH'D. CATTERMOLE, B. D.

THE REV. HENRY STEBBING, M. A. O other country is so rich as England in Sacred Literature. Her greatest Poets and Philos paers have shared with her Divines, in setting forth and establishing the truths of Revelation; while he Divines have heen distinguished alike by the copiousness and the depth of their learning.

The soundness of character thus given to the standard Theology of England has, thro' the variety of circumstances, teen happily pre-vented from degenerating into the harshness of scholasticism; and thus the whole series of pur *Sacred Classics,* is a well of truth and consolation, as open to the general reader as to the most learned student.

It is intended to comprise in this collection, the best works of all the most celebrated wri-ters, whose labours have been devoted to the principles of revealed truth, whether in their application to the immortal interests of indiriduals, or to the order and well-being of society. Treatises on the Doctrines, Morality, and Evidences of Christianity, which have received the permanent stamp of general approbation; select Sermons of the most eminent Divines; the most interesting specimens of Religious Biography; and the choicest examples of Devotional and Sacred Poetry, will succeed each other in the order which may be judged most conducive to the benefit and gratification of the reader.

To the productions of each author, or to each separate production, as the case may seem to require, will be prefixed an introduc-tory Beay, pointing out their characteristic excellencies; and, in some instances, comprehending a biographical sketch of the Auwith remarks on the state of religion in his
